

Good Evening.

In the name of Her Majesty Queen Anne, Prince Regent of London, Chosen of our Lord Mithras, I claim Praxis of the Domain of Birmingham.

The missteps of Juliette Banbury and the lunacy of Harvey Gorstein has devastated the once stalwart and dependable domain. Neither were wise or strong enough to maintain praxis and by age old tradition have seized the reins of power.

A steady hand on the tiller will restore the dependable and reliable domain to its former glory. We will restore the legacy of Wallace.

Viscount Charles Augustus Aldworth, Prince of Birmingham

Kindred of Glasgow,

Several events have transpired in my world in recent weeks. First off, it is with a heavy heart that I announce the Final Death of my close friend Jesus Olivierez, Sheriff of San Sebastian, in the latest successful campaign in the Spanish Crusade, the fall of Cadiz. You will be remembered fondly my noble friend. The Sabbat will tell tales of my vengeance for ten thousand years.

Secondly, the party I recently hosted in my Parisian villa was a fantastic affair. It was good to see John Carter and Arkady mingle with the Elders of Europe and increase their standing in the Camarilla. Prince Tius was quite the talking point in most Elder's conversations, the vast majority of it extremely favourable.

The recent Thing I called in the Domain of Bergen, Norway, was quite the rowdy affair. Unfortunately Lord Lott, Prince of Orkney, was torpored in a duel. As such, I have taken charge of Lord Lott's body and will be maintaining his Domain and his interests until he awakens. As Regent of Orkney, I will officially reiterate the long held position that Lord Lott maintained. Setting foot on Orkney without prior permission from myself will result in immediate destruction. I will continue to frequent the Court of Glasgow so that Kindred can conduct their business with me without fear of destruction on Orkney.

Further, the Sabbat have very recently managed to infiltrate an elite pack of Spanish veterans into Glasgow via ship. I would urge you all to be on your guard and to take further precautions than usual regarding your personal safety. Teresa of Clan Lasombra, and her coterie, will be taking the lead to hunt down and purge this pack of killers. But please keep your eyes open and pass on any strange or out of place behaviour or occurrences to the Scourge, Sheriff, or Primogen as you go about your nightly business.

And lastly, with the nominations for the election of our Justicars happening just now before the Conclave later this year, I have be speaking to several Elders in Europe, Africa, and North America to discuss suitable Kindred. As such, I would like to announce my public support of Vaevatosh as the most suitable candidate for Gangrel Justicar. A second term as Justicar will allow her to continue her great work on the continent of Africa. Work that was in no small way vital to the success of my activities in the Congo Basin area of central Africa, as well as enforcing the will of the Camarilla and adherence to the Traditions in that great, wild, continent.

Angus McDonald,
Primogen of Glasgow and Regent of Orkney.

Notorious “Human Stain” Crime Family Dismantled.

By Jamie Sugdon, Correspondent for The Digger
Submitted by Ancillae Robyn Wyse

Glasgow is no stranger to the street sewage we call gangsters. In recent years there has been an unprecedented rise across the board of all crime with vice, GBH and murder percentages being higher in the last two years than in the last century!

The mass moral, spiritual and crime based “carnage” that Glasgow faced at the end of last year with the city in a state of unbelievable flux left doors wide open for all sorts of morally corrupt “human stains” to do as they please with very little resistance. One such family of sin are the Darwinnie family of Baillieston.

This month showed a turn for the better when the police found major evidence against the crime family to the extent that sources say “If not already arrested caught or killed they are on the run.” It all began when footage of a brutal stabbing committed by Malky Darwinne, the youngest son, against a rival gang member was captured. From there on it was a short hop up the ladder to uncovering more numerous crimes including drugs, extortion, exploitation of the homeless and of course murder.

Reported recently was that Malky Darwinne, now dubbed “The Rat” by fellow criminals because over a month tore down what took three decades to build suggesting major inside information was gleaned, was found murdered in exactly the same way he had been known to kill his victims. One other member of the family has been reported killed in also the same manner as their personal M.O. however their name has been kept quiet for now with the manhunt underway for the surviving family members and known associates.

Detective Inspector Tanner of Police Scotland stated “The excellent work of the unit has made it certain we have enough evidence to put all away for a very long time. The perpetrators shall be held accountable for their many, many crimes and with the exceptional police work continuing they shall be found and punished to the full extent of the law.”

An accurate account of the events of the previous court

Last court was all about the gambling what with the arrival of the floating casino that has been making the rounds of the UK domain. For the price of one little secret the gamblers had a chance to win a whole score of secrets simply by winning a poker game. There were a few members of the court willing to give up their secrets for a chance at winning the jackpot, Elder MacDonald and 'The Daddy' himself Mr Doyle who ended up as the evenings winner. That is why his hair is so big now, it is so full of secrets.

There was also a surprise visit from a rather quiet but armoured Nosferatu. It seemed he was looking to speak with Elder Rathbone, but also spent a great deal more time speaking to Prince Tius. It would appear this man was one of the Leper Knights, and if anyone has any further information on them I would be happy to pay for it.

Other than the excitement of the poker game the rest of the court seemed to pass without incident. Unless you count Madam Nos (I still have not learned her name) simply dreadful attempt at a Scottish Accent. The Daddy did try to school her in it, but unfortunately even his Scottish burr was not enough.

There were a few more of the 'differently sane' ones there last night, most of them continuing their game of...I have no idea, but they seem happy in their little corner. As happy as they are I ask other members of the court to engage these poor lost souls in conversation. I have heard that on occasion, in amongst the ramblings and the laughing, they are capable of rather incredible insight. Yes, perhaps it does mean sitting down and enduring one of their nonsensical games, but there can be answers in the patterns and I urge you to give them a chance.

Also, minor boon to the first person that can confirm that one of the ranting's of the mad ones came true.

Lady Salisbury (London) - Another one added to the collection.

Ann Jacques (York) - I am looking forward to the high stakes game in the coming weeks, shall I look forward to seeing you there?

Sarah Miles (Birmingham) - His mad heart struck in twain, bound and buried, a problem no more. Isn't he dreamy.

Lucretia Reflection (Manchester) - Look, you can run but you can't hide. Might as well turn yourself in. He promises to be gentle....

Primrose Thassalo (Glasgow) - He's got every neonate and ancilla quaking in their sub par shoes, how long before the beast in the east starts making the Elders nervous. One touch is all it takes, or so I hear.

Carl (Norfolk) - Congratulations to my friend and mentor on his rise, once again to Princedom.

Ryan Harding (Severn) - If only the gave awards for number of titles won...

Katie Redding (Dundee) - It was a pleasure dancing with Prince Tius at the recent shindig on the high seas. He has some moves. Don't be a stranger.

Dougal Douglas (Aberdeen) - It is with a heavy heart that I announce that the Final Death of Morag McDonald, Harpy of Inverness has net final death. Prince Lesley has yet to release the mode that such a travesty occurred. But it shall not go unpunished.

Dianne Duncan (Carlisle) - Vinn Mcann is a resolute and hardy member of the court, his word is his bond and he is a faithful agent of the prince.

Far (Edinburgh) - I have it on good authority that both Madame Guil and Rafael De Corazon are to attend the court this month. Be on your best behaviour.
